

Acknowledgements

AS THE editor of this journal, I would like to express my deep gratitude to the Japan-United States Friendship Commission for a generous third and last grant to this journal and also to the American Studies Foundation of Japan which was kindly willing to give a supplementary grant. I would like to thank especially Dr. Glenn Campbell, Mr. Lindley S. Sloan and Dr. Eric F. Gangloff of the Friendship Commission for their kind support to this project and for their willingness to extend the term of the grant as the publication of this volume is much delayed.

For the delay of the publication of this volume, for which I am responsible as the editor, I deeply apologize to the Friendship Commission and to the contributors to this volume and its readers.

My special thanks are due also to Dr. Roger W. Buckley, who kindly read parts of the manuscripts and suggested improvements in style, and to Mrs. Yasuo Furuya, who was kind enough to read part of the manuscripts and most of the first galleys. Members of the editorial board provided me with valuable advice and Ms. Masako Notoji's cooperation as associate editor was really indispensable.

I would like to add, however, that it is only the editor who is responsible for any shortcomings in editorial policy and all the typographical errors and inadequacies in style which may still remain in this volume.
